CIBC has issued the CIBC Linked Equity Accelerated Return Notes due December 1, 2014 (the "Notes"). The Notes are a debt obligation of CIBC. The principal amount is $100.00 per Note. 27,000 Notes were issued. The Notes are a 2-year principal at risk investment that provides investors with a return at maturity based on the price return of the S&P/TSX 60 Index™ (the "Reference Index") at an enhanced participation rate of 200.00% of any positive price return of the Reference Index. The return at maturity on the Notes is subject to a maximum of 15.00% per Note. Therefore, the maximum maturity amount that may be payable at maturity is $115.00 per Note (annual compounded return of 7.24% per Note). The original principal amount invested is not protected. The Notes provide investors with contingent principal protection if the Reference Index is above the Barrier Level of 65.00% on the valuation date. If the Reference Index is at or below the Barrier Level of 65.00% on the valuation date, the principal amount invested is not protected, and investors will participate in 100.00% of any negative price return of the Reference Index. As such, at maturity investors may receive less than the original principal amount invested, subject to a minimum maturity amount of $1.00.
